

Paper 1

CORE 101 04A, Spring 2004

Dear _____,

Thank you for agreeing to critique my paper analyzing the increase in sexual harrassment. (In fact, it's already been published in Axelrod and Cooper, on p 355.)

I'm not asking for a very long critique — 750 words should be plenty. If you have more to write, though, I'd love to hear it!

I welcome your comments and specific suggestions both on form (such the structure, which does seem to me rather awkward) and on meaning (would you suggest that I add anything? Did anything leave you unconvinced?); I'm also interested in what parts of the paper you feel are particularly strong. Actually, Romano's evaluation, also in Axelrod and Cooper (p 278), is a good example of what I'm looking for.

Thank you very much for your valuable and frank opinions.

*Sincerely,
Sarah West*

Due dates

Your response, in the form of a letter, is due Friday, January 23, at 2:40pm. You may submit it by e-mail, or you may hand it to me. Note that, in contrast to papers last semester, there are no intermediate steps for this paper.
